

School Supplies

We are HEADQUARTERS for School Supplies—everything the student needs in text books, tablets, rulers, pencils, straps, etc., etc. We carry a well selected assortment of —the widely known "pen that fills itself." This pen is particularly adapted for students' use for either classroom notes or home study.

If the Conklin runs dry in classroom, simply dip it in the nearest ink bottle, press the little "Crescent-Filler" and the pen is filled! It cleans itself at the same time. A number of styles and sizes.

CRUELTY TO DOGS Any man or boy who will mistreat a dumb creature needlessly, has no more claim on civilization than a cannibal tribes of darkest Africa.

Last Saturday we were told that a dog who had been mistreated or teased by some thoughtless boy, bit another man who had stopped at the owners house on business. On entering the yard the dog rushed out and bit him on the leg. Now who is to blame for this accident, the dog or the boys?

The dog undoubtedly expected the man, when he made his appearance in the yard, to be a friend and not a mistreat him in the same manner as the boys had done previous to his visit. As the dog was not mad the injury is not serious.

The law is, if a dog bites anyone, he must be killed. So boys don't treat these dumb creatures with injustice which may cause their lives.

(A tribute to Mrs. Frank Ufer)

Just in the evening as the sun sank low;

The angel came for her to go

She smiled, and closed her eyes

Then left us for her home beyond the skies.

The sun has gone down o'er a sweet young life,

And the spirit has gone where there is no night.

Beyond the vale she now is at rest

With loved ones dear in that land of the blest.

A little treasure she left us our path-way to cheer

To shorten the time through the coming years.

And to brighten our lives from day to day

To help bear the burden that has crossed our way.

Death's cold wave we will fear no more.

For today is now on the other shore,

It will now only be a pleasant dream

When our feet shall cross the quiet stream.

And when we pass through those pearly gates ajar,

Beyond the harbor bar,

She will meet us with a smile,

So dear Ted farewell—for only a little while.

CROP CONDITIONS OF THE STATE

Prospects unusually good for Eastern half of the State.

Western and southwestern counties showing some recovery from effects of early weather.

About sixty percent of the corn of the State is past the roasting ear stage.

Lat potatoes in a growing condition and with suitable weather should make a fair crop.

The corn crop in the Eastern and Central portions of the State will be better than 90 percent of a normal crop according to present indications. The crop in some sections is late and hence subject to early frost.

Received from correspondents by C. J. West, Agricultural Statistician. In the Western and southwestern counties considerable improvement is noticeable over the condition of a few weeks ago but the condition ranges from 65 to 85 percent as compared with a condition considerably higher in the Eastern half of the State.

Late Potatoes in a Growing Condition

Late potatoes in a healthy and vigorous condition and were not for the poor stand in many fields an average crop would follow from present indications. Like the corn, late potatoes will be subject to damage from early frosts this year.

CORN — About 60 percent past roasting ear stage. Condition generally improved over that a few weeks ago.

LATE POTATOES — Poor stand but doing well.

80,000 ACRES OF OHIO PRACTICALLY RUINED

Eighty thousand acres of Ohio land have been practically ruined by soil erosion. It is estimated that the Scioto river each year carries away enough Ohio soil to build a pyramid 250 feet covering the North acre field. Soil erosion occurs in every county of the State, and constitutes a serious problem in at least 40 counties.

Thus, Virgil Overholt, extension man for the Department of Agricultural Engineering, Ohio State University, opens the September "Timely Soil Topics," a 4 page circular issued by the Department of Soils of the University.

To check this tremendous waste, Prof. Overholt suggests mounding of broad base terracing, much used in the South. Terraces are made with an ordinary 16-inch walking plow and a V shaped grader or ditcher.

They are made from 15 to 20 feet wide, and follow contours around the hill. They cannot be used on grades exceeding 15 feet per hundred.

Other means of checking erosion are suggested in the circular, which is sent out free to residents of Ohio.

Damming gullies with straw is said only to start new gullies, and woven wire fencing is named as a valuable aid to damming them with brush.

EDITOR OBJECTS TO DICTATION BY ANTI SALOON LEAGUE

We have no quarrel with Mr. White or the organization with which he is affiliated. From a personal viewpoint as well as through the papers with which the writer has been connected there has never been a time but what we were on the right side of this moral question.

But from a partisan standpoint we are absolutely against the anti-saloon league dictating appointments. In the state of Ohio the Republican party was the instrument through which his organization gained its strength and through which it has obtained the most of its legislation, and to the party it should.

The success of the Republican party, whenever it is attained, is due to the efforts of the men within the ranks who devote their time and spend their money in the interests of the cause. To the man in the ward, if any is to be given and they should not have to obtain the stamp of approval of the anti-saloon league or any other organization to qualify them for consideration." — Greenville Daily Tribune.

CO-OPERATIVE DAIRY-MEN SUCCEEDING IN NEW YORK

During the editor's recent vacation he visited his native country and city and was interested to find that the dairymen of the counties of Eastern Central New York have a very successful Co-operative Sales Organization; the following report of this Association for the month of July clipped from the Daily Oneonta Star, of Oneonta, New York will be of interest to the dairymen and farmers of Northwestern Ohio:

Reports submitted to the Dairy-men's League Co-operative Association from the dairymen of the vast League territory show that pooled members, during the month of July, delivered to plants operated by dealers, 185,470.2 pounds of milk and also that 40,441,256 pounds were handled in stations operated by the Association.

It will readily be seen that pooled members contributed a total quantity of 225,915,058 pounds, or approximately 60 per cent of the total amount of milk produced which were delivered to all plants operated by pooled members, non-pooled members and non-League producers.

These statistics have been compiled from the reports of the vast League territory show that pooled members, during the month of July, delivered to plants operated by dealers, 185,470.2 pounds of milk and also that 40,441,256 pounds were handled in stations operated by the Association.

Under the classification as adopted by the League, the entire amount of milk, 377,353,298 lbs., was utilized as follows:

Class 1, 132,789,960 lbs. 48 per ct.

Class 2, 107,963,346 lbs. 28 per ct.

Class 3, 25,549,960 lbs. 07 per ct.

Class 4 (B) 19,426,033 lbs. 12 per ct.

By this table it will be noted that the largest share of milk was used as a fluid, while the next larger share was devoted to cream, ice cream and soft cheeses.

For all expenses, including administration, advertising and insurance, and cost of individualness issued to members, the sum of 14.5 cents per 100 pounds of milk was deducted and cash payment of $1.60 per hundred was made to the members of the league.

COUNCIL MEETING

The Council met in regular session Tuesday evening. Minutes of last regular meeting read and approved.

The first to come before the council was the ordinance allowing the Northwestern Ohio Telephone Co. to place their cable under ground from Oak Street to Chestnut Street passed under suspension of the rules.

Ordered published.

Mr. Fowler appeared before the council asking them to use asphalt instead of tar. Council asked Mr. Fowler to circulate a petition and present it at the next regular meeting.

The residents of North Fulton Street were on hand to object to the street widening project. After considerable discussion the Council agreed to pay 30 per cent of the cost of improvement.

The property owners of South Franklin Street have petitioned the council to have that street improved from Chestnut to Cherry Street.

Law requires three readings before action can be taken.

It is to be paid for in 15 years, payable semi-annually.
